

The Little Prince

at Waukesha Civic Theatre

A Social Story written by Peter Kao, M.S., CCC-SLP ©2019

I am going to see a play!

It's like a movie or tv show,
only the story is happening on a stage.

The people on stage are called actors.
Actors use their voices and bodies to tell the story.

I can see and hear them. They can see and hear me.
We are all in the same room together.

Lots of things are needed to help tell the story on a stage.

Costumes

Scenery

Props

Lights

Sound

Before the show, there will be a lot of people in the theatre. It can get very noisy.

While I am waiting for the show to begin, I can:

1. Wear my headphones

2. Use a fidget

3. Take a break outside of the auditorium

The play I am seeing is called, The Little Prince.

The Little Prince is about a man called “The Aviator”.

He flies a plane, like a pilot!

He also draws pictures in his sketchbook.

See if you can find his drawings in the show!

One day, his plane breaks down and he is lost in a strange place.

A little boy comes to help the man.

This boy is the Little Prince.

2 different actors play the Little Prince.

The man and the Little Prince go on an adventure and meet lots of characters.

Some of those characters are puppets.

Others are played by real people pretending to be flowers, trees, or animals.

To show different places, actors hold props like the sun, stars, flowers, and pieces of cloth.

Together with the lights, they can make the stage look like a sunset, night time, or even a desert!

During the show, if something is funny, I can laugh!
If something is sad or scary, I can cover my eyes or wear my headphones. I might even take a break!

There will be a break in the middle of the show called “intermission”.

During intermission, I can get a drink of water, go to the bathroom, or buy a treat to eat.

When I am ready, I can go back inside to see the second half of the show.

At the end of the show, I can clap my hands to tell the actors how much I liked it.

We hope you have a wonderful time watching The Little Prince at Waukesha Civic Theatre.

Come back soon!

The End.
